Smell & Taste Tests

Completing the smell and taste tests will convince you, your family and friends of the Air Tamer's resounding success after being treated in the Tri-Vortex Technology treatment chamber.

Directions for Tests

Pour two glasses of red wine, two glasses of balsamic vinegar and two glasses of distilled water in a normal manner. Grape or a tart fruit juice can be substituted for the red wine.

Place three glasses (one sample of each liquid) into, a room with the door closed.

Place three glasses into second room with the door closed. Locate the Tri-Vortex Technology treated Air Tamer three feet from and at the same level as the three glasses and run unit for three minutes.

Turn off Air Tamer after three minutes Remove glasses quickly from the room and immediately close the door so the ions will not infiltrate or transport to any other rooms.

Rapidly transport the three treated glasses into the first room with the untreated samples and make sure the door is immediately closed so no ions could enter room.

Smell the untreated samples first and smell the treated samples second, Smell the untreated samples a second time and then smell the treated samples a second time. Test the distilled water samples first, test the wine samples second and test vinegar samples third.

Persons with a sensitive nose might detect a smell difference in the distilled water. However, are there major differences in the smells and aromas of the wine and vinegar? When the smell tests are complete, the next phase involves the taste tests

Taste the untreated samples first and taste the treated samples second. Taste untreated samples a second time and taste treated samples a second time. Taste the distilled water samples first, taste the wine samples second and taste the vinegar samples third.

Conclusion: Are there major differences in the tastes, textures and smoothness of the untreated and treated distilled water, vinegar and wine samples?

The above tests can be conducted a second time except have the Air Tamer placed 15 feet from the liquid samples in a closed room for five minutes. Are the results the same as the first set of smell and taste tests?

Person who consumes any amount of caffeine or nicotine at any kind of frequency may not be able to successfully complete the smell and taste tests. Any amount of caffeine and nicotine dull and deadens the smell and taste buds and sensors of one's body.

Have fun experimenting with the Tri-Vortex Technology enhanced Air Tamer. Try the smell and taste tests with solid foods. Smell and taste tests can also be conducted with the Air Tamer metal case. Simply place treated liquid or solid food samples directly on the metal case that comes with the Air Tamer. Try applying the metal case directly to a body part experiencing discomfort or pain for three minutes to one hour.
